

How To Install CamStudio – Internet Marketing Edition

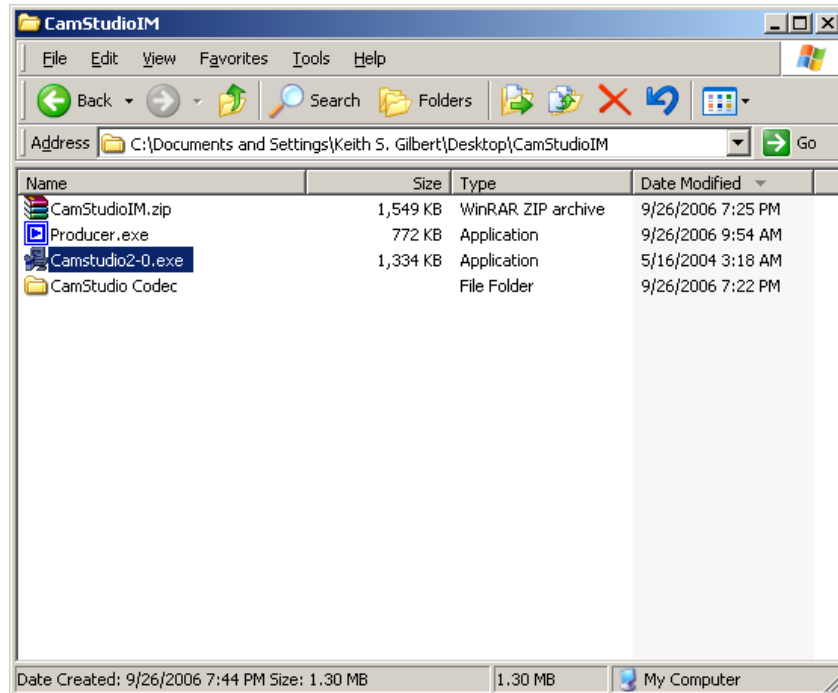

1. Unzip the package.

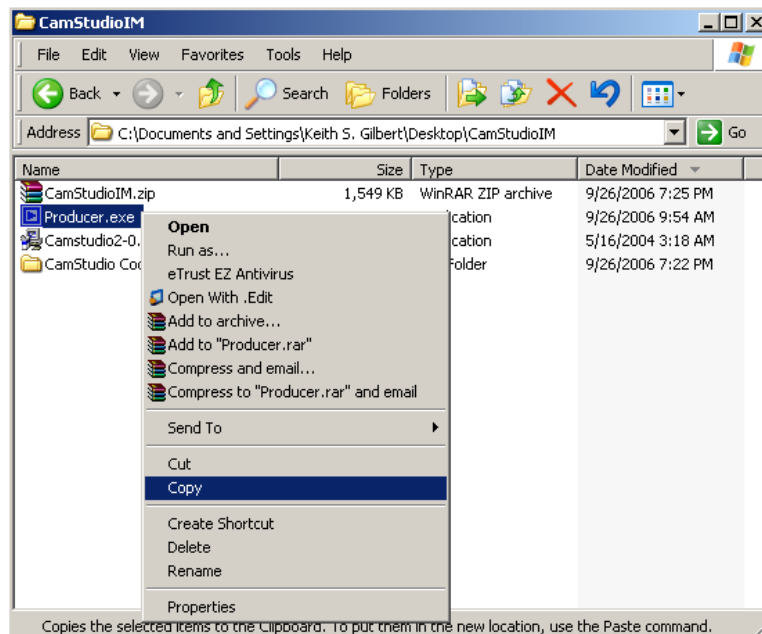

2. Go into the "CamStudio Codec" folder, right-click on camcodec.inf, and choose "Install." This installs the video codec for CamStudio so that the videos you make won't be too large for viewers on slower connections.

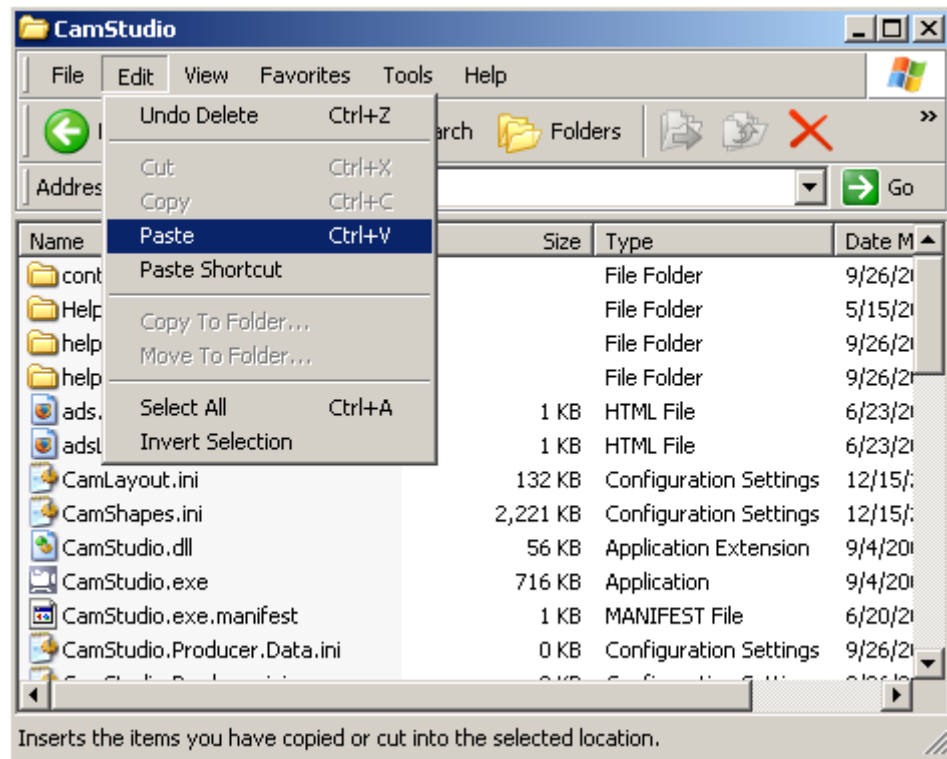

- 3. Go back and install the main CamStudio program by double-clicking on Camstudio2-o(.exe).

- 4. After installing CamStudio, go back to your unzipped files. Click on Producer(.exe) to select it and choose "Copy" to copy it to the computer memory. (This is the new version of the "SWF Producer" of CamStudio which has the features of this "Internet Marketing Edition" (fixed Firefox bug and redirecting capabilities)).

5. Now browse (or type in the "Address" bar) to "C:\Program Files\CamStudio" or wherever you installed CamStudio. Once in this folder, click Edit and choose "Paste" and choose "Yes" to replace the old file. This replaces the old version of CamStudio SWF Producer with the new version from the "Internet Marketing Edition."

6. Close out the window. Congratulations, you've installed CamStudio – Internet Marketing Edition!

You can now open CamStudio and start recording. Record in AVI format (default), then go open SWF Producer to make a version for the web. After opening your AVI in SWF Producer, click File → Convert to SWF and you'll get an options box.

You'll see the new "Redirect URL" feature in the "Conversion to Flash" dialog.
